History:

At your service since 1974. It started with a single truck. Founder Guy Antonacci led the way calling his new business Somers Sanitation, named after our hometown of Somers, Connecticut. Since then, we have grown our fleet, facilities and services, expanding our footprint throughout New England. As we have evolved, one thing remains the same: a commitment to the communities we serve is at the heart of everything we do. In fact, that promise is in our DNA. Today, three generations of the Antonacci family are leading the company and its affiliates into the future, grounded in the guiding principles we've held since the beginning: to provide outstanding customer care and innovation delivered by highly trained, knowledgeable professionals.
